KILLED RUNNING FROM THE GHOSTS

Miss Kathleen Beard, of Thurmont, Runs away from her Home in Flight from Imaginary Creatures. Killed on Railroad.

Miss Kathleen Beard, 30 years old, daughter of Rev. M. L. Beard, pastor of the Lutheran Church at Thurmont, was found dead along the tracks of the Western Maryland Railroad, at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, having been struck by the Pittsburgh Flyer. She left her home, unknown to members of her family, at 10 o'clock the night before. The Beard family is very well known here. Paul Beard, a brother of the girl, was a college student here last year and the year preceding, and the father is a graduate of both college and seminary.

Miss Beard had been suffering from a severe nervous attack and imagined that ghosts were after her. Tuesday night, shortly before 10 o'clock, her sister and the nurse went out for a short walk and a servant was left in charge. Miss Beard asked the servant to go downstairs, and during the servant's absence Miss Beard hurriedly dressed and left the house by a back door. Her absence was almost immediately noticed, and a search began, with State Senator J. P. T. Mathias leading. The Senator was taken ill and had to be removed to his home.

At 2:30 o'clock the searching party came upon the body about 100 yards from a railroad crossing. One arm and one leg were severed from the body, but the face was unscarred. From the position of the body it is believed that she was fleeing from the creations of her disordered mind and tried to dash across the track in front of the train, when she was struck.

The father of the young woman was in one of the searching parties and remained with them until 1 o'clock in the morning, when he became too ill to continue.

Paul Beard, a brother, and Miss Sadie Beard and the nurse went through the country with several citizens, and continued their search until the body was found.

The body was taken to Miss Beard's home in Thurmont where the funeral will take place Friday morning. Services will be conducted by Rev. Charles Reinwald, of Emmitsburg, and the body will be buried beside that of Miss Beard's mother at Middletown.

A graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music and a painstaking student, it is believed that close application to her musical studies caused her mental breakdown. Since the beginning of her illness, five weeks ago, Miss Beard had been under the care of an attendant.

Miss Beard is survived by her father, three sisters, Mrs. Lester Birely, Miss Sadie Beard and Mrs. Maud Mumford, who is the wife of Rev. Carl Mumford, of North Union, Pa. Two brothers, John and Paul Beard, of Thurmont, also survive.

NEW OXFORD LIGHTS

New Oxford Again Considers Electric Light Plans.

At a special session of the town council held this week, Mr. Manley represented the Hanover Light, Heat and Power Co., and submitted a proposal for lighting New Oxford with arc or incandescent lights, or both. The Council agreed to present the proposal to the borough attorney for examination. The New Oxford Item says: "Electric lights are an improvement, in fact almost a necessity for our town if we desire to grow and improve. The lights and power are demanded for manufacturers, business houses, churches, etc. Our present lighting system is little better than nothing, and yet we spend hundreds of dollars for it. We trust that the Light Heat & Power Co. will offer such terms that the Council and their Attorney may be able to approve of the proposition."

NEW ENGLAND VETERANS HERE

Massachusetts Veterans who Attended National Encampment in the South Pay Visit to the Gettysburg Battlefield. Their Tour.

On their way home from attending the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Chattanooga, the official Massachusetts party of Civil War veterans arrived in Gettysburg early this morning for a day's visit to the battlefield. They are stopping at the Eagle Hotel.

Heading the party is Thomas J. Ames, of Leominster, commander of the Department of Massachusetts, who has charge of arrangements. The itinerary of the tour was mapped out by his adjutant, W. A. Weatherbee, of Boston, who was taken ill on the trip and was compelled to return home. Mr. Weatherbee this year missed for the first time in many years participating in the big parade of Grand Army men. Practically all the other veterans were in the parade at Chattanooga last week.

In addition to Mr. Weatherbee's illness but one other misfortune has befallen the veterans on their trip. This occurred on Wednesday when A. F. Rich, of Boston, failed to see a step in the National Hotel, Washington, and fell, hurting one of his legs. He is going about Gettysburg on crutches.

The veterans started from Boston two weeks ago and in addition to a five days' stay at Chattanooga, have toured Atlanta, and have visited Andersonville, Richmond, Petersburg, Washington and Mt. Vernon.

Only about half of the party here to-day attended the big anniversary celebration in July, arrangements having been announced for the present trip and most of them feeling that they cared to take but one outing during the year.

DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT

New Chester Man Seriously Hurt in Long Fall.

Jefferson McIntire, of New Chester, met with a serious and painful accident one morning recently. Mr. McIntire, a carpenter by trade, was employed by Contractor William Eline, of Littlestown, and at the time of the accident was working on the second floor of the large new business block of Basehor & Mehling, in Littlestown. He was working about the elevator shaft when in some manner he lost his footing, and fell a distance of 30 feet, striking the cement floor in the cellar. He was picked up in a dazed condition and a physician, who was summoned, found that Mr. McIntire sustained a number of severe and painful bruises about the body and limbs, but fortunately no bones were broken. He was later conveyed to his home in New Chester by Mr. Eline in his auto, where, at latest reports he was slightly improved, though he is confined to his bed, unable to use his lower limbs.

DEATH IN FIRE AT HOLLY INN

Prominent Baltimore Woman Falls in Attack of Vertigo and Inhales Flames when Clothing Takes Fire from Candle.

Sustaining what physicians believe to have been an attack of vertigo, Miss Jane West, a prominent Baltimore woman, fell as she entered her room at the Mount Holly Inn Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock, and succumbed from the effects of inhaling flames caused when her hair and bed clothing caught fire from a candle which the woman knocked over in falling. She was 84 years of age.

Miss West had been a guest at the Inn since the latter part of June. Wednesday morning she arose and took a bath. As she was returning from the bath room, she entered her room and, it is thought, sustained an attack of vertigo. She fell to the floor and in so doing it is believed knocked over a candle which had been lighted. The candle set fire to the woman's hair and to the bed clothing. The flames ensuing were inhaled by Miss West and it is thought this suffocated her.

Owing to the attack of vertigo, she could not call for help and was forced to submit to the deadly fumes and flames of the fire. She was not discovered until a while later when Mrs. Fred Souders, wife of the proprietor, as was her custom, went to see if Miss West was all right. Entrance could not be gained to her room but a glance over the transom revealed the dead woman lying on the floor near the bed. It is thought that fright helped to hasten the death of the woman.

When it was determined that she was dead Coroner Preston was immediately summoned and went to view the remains. He pronounced death to have been accidental.

Miss West was a resident of Baltimore and in her earlier days was a society belle of that city. She was a woman of refinement and culture and was a member of a very prominent southern family.

THAT LINCOLN MEMORIAL

Congressman Borland Wants Lincoln Commission Replaced.

When former President Taft arrived in Washington on Wednesday to attend a meeting of the Lincoln Memorial Commission he found a resolution in Congress to legislate him out of his commissionship and also displace "Uncle Joe" Cannon and former Senator Cullom, who was a personal friend of Lincoln's. Bids for the memorial, a gigantic structure of marble near the Potomac, were to be opened to-day.

Congressman Borland introduced the resolution asking Congress to repeal the law which authorized the memorial, and name a new commission to be composed of Democrats, including Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark. His resolution sets out that the memorial now proposed will cost much more than was estimated and will be confronted by newly discovered engineering difficulties. Borland was a warm supporter of a Lincoln highway from Washington to Gettysburg.

TWO FIRES IN ADAMS COUNTY

Barn Struck Lightning is Burned with All the Crops. Stock Saved Fire Near York Springs Destroys Meat Shop.

During the electrical and rain storm shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon the frame bank barn, 40 x 81 feet, on the farm of Joseph Holtz, of New Oxford, at Holtz's mill, beyond New Chester, Tyrone township, was struck by a bolt of lightning, and entirely consumed. The lightning struck the one corner of the barn and in a short time the entire structure was a mass of flames.

Ervin Fair, tenant on the farm, succeeded, however, in saving all the live stock and some of the farming implements, but 35 tons of hay, 100 bushels of oats, two pairs of hay carriages, buggy, all the harness, 25 sacks of phosphate, and other articles were consumed with the building. A large stack of straw close to the barn was also burned, but another stack of straw just outside the barn-yard was saved, as was also a small barn a short distance away. The hog pen had caught fire several times but was saved from destruction.

Mr. Holtz's loss on building is $1200 with $800 insurance in the Mummiasburg Company and $300 on contents insured in same company. Mr. Fair, the tenant, estimates his loss at about $500, which is insured in the Liberty and Independent Co. of Gettysburg. Mr. Holtz will have a new barn erected on the site as soon as arrangements can be made to do so.

The fire was not entirely extinguished, and during a light breeze Tuesday afternoon, the stack of straw, containing 10 or 12 tons, adjoining the barn yard was set on fire and destroyed.

The stable on the property of Mrs. Margaret Pearson, of near York Springs, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning. Part of the stable was used as a butcher shop and was occupied by Herman Weigle who lost all of his tools, a large refrigerator, and the meat of two hogs and a beef. Mr. Weigle's loss will be $325 on which he has $169 insurance in the Mummiasburg Company. The building was insured in the Adams County Company.

FOR UNIFORM SIGNAL

WRITER WOULD CUT OUT FRILLS
OF AUTO HORNS.

Makes Claim That Weird and Unusual
Sounds Tend to Confuse Pedestrians
Crossing Busy Street.

Locomotives have a uniform style of whistle. Ferry boats cling to a certain stereotyped form of warning. An engineer on either a locomotive or a boat would at once lose his job if he were to attempt any frills. It is his duty to stick to regulations, and not to give free rein to his inventive genius.

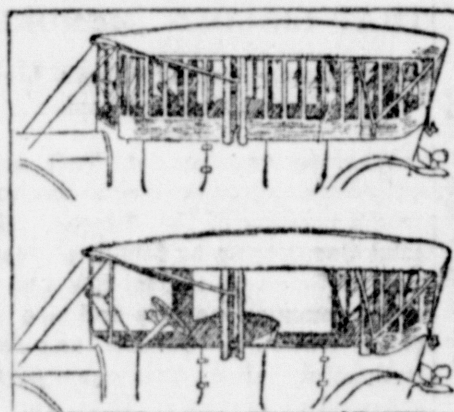

Why not a set order of automobile warnings? The pedestrian who bravely takes his or her life in hand at every street crossing has become accustomed to the more or less rhythmic notes of the auto horn. You hear a sound and you automatically get out of the path of sure destruction. But a few auto drivers prefer the odd and the unusual. They equip their cars with instruments that emit weird and strange sounds. These attempts to be individual or eccentric merely confuse. They are at once a nuisance and a menace. They distract the human ear, which is already overburdened with the countless noises of a big city.

The effect is like whistling to a fleeing rabbit. Instead of clearing the track, these new-fangled auto horns merely cause pedestrians to stop in paralyzed fear. Philadelphia has done a good deal and done it wisely to regulate street traffic. I should like to see Director Porter issue a police notice that all automobiles must be equipped with a uniform and regulation horn.—Philadelphia Ledger.

CELLULOID PANES A NOVELTY

New and Decidedly Ingenious Idea for Side Curtains Recently Put on the Market.

The ingenious side curtains illustrated have recently been put on the market. These consist of celluloid panes secured to pressed sheet metal frames, the whole curtain being capable of rolling around a rod. How this property of the material used is utilized in the construction is seen by referring to the illustration. The curtain on each side consists really of three sections, front, middle and rear. The latter is permanently open, that is, visible, being mounted on the side edge of the rear of the top and to the rear upright of the top frame. The front and middle sections are secured at their relative rear and fore edges to rotatable rods or bars inclosed in a metal housing. These bars are held under spring tension somewhat similar to that applied to window-shade mechanisms. The free edges of front and middle sections are temporarily secured to the windshield frame and the front edge of the rear

Curtains With Celluloid Panes.

section. By this construction it is easy to open or close all or any of the six curtain sections promptly and with hardly an effort. The use of the materials above named warrant the longevity and strength of the device.—The Automobile.

Divided Window.

Anyone who has driven an automobile any length of time has doubtless experienced the one great difficulty of attempting to keep wind-shield or window clear from show or rain, as the case may be, when driving in a storm. Vision becomes obstructed and often serious accidents result. Several attempts have been made on the part of men of inventive turn to overcome this difficulty by mechanical contrivances that would wipe the snow or rain from the glass. An auto manufacturing company has arranged the front window so as to overcome this difficulty. The window is divided horizontally.

In stormy weather the upper half may be swung out slightly, thus providing a small opening. This opening comes at a point on a level with the vision of the driver, so that in spite of snow and sleet on the glass, one may peer out beneath it and keep watchful eye on the thoroughfare ahead.

Car to Be Gold-Trimmed.

A well-known San Francisco society leader recently placed an order with an agency of that city for a special coupe body to be built on a 44-50 chassis, which will be one of the most handsome and expensive jobs ever undertaken in motor car building.

The design of the body will be something quite original after the buyer's own ideas as to what should make the most beautiful car. The color scheme will be gold, trimmed with black on the outside, the inside will be upholstered in bay blue brocade silk. All the accessories will be gold-plated.

When cut in the milk and cured, oat and pea hay is most palatable and nutritious.

SULZER TRIAL IS UNDER WAY

Court Defers Decision on Legality of "Money Articles."

FIRST WITNESSES HEARD

Unwise, Says the Presiding Judge, "to Try This Case Piecemeal"—Defense Enters General Denial.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 25.—William Sulzer must go to trial on the merits of the impeachment charges made against him. Later on the court will decide whether it has a right to try him.

Reduced to plain English, that is the meaning of an astounding ruling made by the court. It took the breath from even those who voted for it. The importance of the decision is that had the court ruled in favor of Sulzer on his demurrer to the three "money articles" of the impeachment, certain evidence of alleged misconduct in office could not have been placed before the court.

Now he must face trial. Later on it may be decided that the court had no right to try him for acts committed prior to his taking office. But the damaging evidence will have been placed before the tribunal.

No one had an inkling of what was to come. Austin G. Fox, the last of Sulzer's string of attorneys, had closed a powerful argument against bringing Sulzer to trial for acts precedent to his office holding. He had shown that in the constitutions of twenty-four states impeachment on such charges is specifically barred. He had aligned precedent after precedent in support of his position. It is too much to say his position would have been supported by vote. But the division would have been on more even terms than in preceding votes. It was assumed that a vote would be ordered. Then Judge Cullen gave his opinion, advising that the decision on the indictments in question be deferred until the final issue of the guilt or innocence of the accused official be reached.

When he ordered a vote forty-nine members of the court voted to defer decision on the objections to the three articles of the bill of impeachment until the final vote is taken upon Governor Sulzer's guilt or innocence of the charges made against him. Seven voted against this, in spite of Cullen's powerful statement from the bench and the fact that he was supported by every member of the court of appeals, which sit with the senate. Immediately afterward the respondent's answer was read in which he entered a formal denial of the charges. Then Eugene Lamb Richards, counsel for the managers of the impeachment proceedings, opened the case for the state.

Secretary of State Mitchell May was then called to the stand as the first witness in the impeachment trial.

He was called to testify that Governor Sulzer was nominated, elected and sworn into office as governor.

"We will concede," said Louis Marshall for the governor, "that he was duly nominated, elected and inducted into office."

"Do you admit that he has not resigned?" asked Isidore Kresel, for the prosecution. "We do," replied the governor's counsel, "and that he has no intention of resigning."

After testifying that he had administered the oath of office to the governor, Mr. May was excused.

George R. VanNamee, clerk of the assembly, the next witness, produced the report of the Frawley investigating committee, presented to the assembly on Aug. 11, and testified that it had been adopted. He produced also the impeachment resolutions adopted by the assembly the same day.

VanNamee was excused to obtain documents he had neglected to bring, and Mr. May was recalled to produce the original statement of Governor Sulzer's campaign contributions. He produced also the campaign statement of the William Sulzer Progressive League. This showed reports of $450 and expenditures of $451.

Patrick McCabe, clerk of the senate and of the court, was then called. He testified to the presentation of the articles of impeachment to the senate, and of the service of the articles upon the governor.

Albert Wolf, of New York, testified to having taken Governor Sulzer's oath to his campaign affidavit on Nov. 13.

Jacob H. Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers, who on Oct. 16, 1912, gave Sulzer a check for $2500, was called. He said he gave Sulzer the money for expenses and he could use it any way he chose.

Henry Morganthau, ambassador to Turkey, testified that he gave Sulzer $1000 because he was the nominee of the Democratic party and to help him in his canvass.

Every line of the telegraphic correspondence of both William Sulzer and Mrs. Sulzer sent during the months of June, July, August and September up to this date will be demanded of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies by the formal process of the court of impeachment. Managers of both companies were served with subpoenas commanding them to appear with messages that have left the executive mansion and which are expected to develop sensational testimony.

If a horse has anything faulty it will not grow less but will probably grow worse.

EMORY E. SPEER.
Federal Judge Made Ill From Worry Over Charges.

United States Judge Emory Speer of the Southern district of Georgia is seriously ill at Highland, N. C., because of worry over the threatened impeachment proceedings. The judge has been twenty-eight years on the bench. His friends say the charges against him are the result of a conspiracy on the part of disgruntled litigants and attorneys. Doctors attending him say his physical condition is due entirely to his mental worry.

DR. BLAKE'S WIFE SUES MRS. MACKAY

Demands $1,000,000 For Loss of Husband's Affections.

New York, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Joseph A. Blake, wife of a noted surgeon, has served Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay with the necessary papers in a suit for $1,000,000 for alienation of her husband's affections.

Because of the reluctance of both parties to the action to face publicity there has been a delay in filing the case in court, but unless an agreement is reached—now looked upon as impossible because of the bitterness of the plaintiff—the papers will be offered for judicial record at the coming term.

Mrs. Mackay, whose husband suddenly left America last June, taking with him the three children, was served with the papers in the alienation suit, in which grave charges were made just a short time before Mr. Mackay made his flight.

The fact that no action for separation or divorce has been instituted by Mrs. Blake against the surgeon adds a new and complex element to the situation. The Blakes are living apart and have been for considerably more than a year.

That the Blakes and Mackays had been friends was a subject of common knowledge, but only in idle gossip was any real significance attached to the breaking of their relations two years ago.

It was about this time that Mrs. Blake began to live more or less independently of her husband, and at the same time it was noticed that Mr. and Mrs. Mackay frequently went on trips abroad, although for a long time they had been looked upon as being devoted to each other.

Mrs. Mackay is considered one of the most beautiful and intellectual women in American society. She is of old Knickerbocker stock, having been a Miss Duer. Clarence Mackay is one of the country's wealthiest men, having been practically sole heir of his father, one of the original bonanza crowd, who, at his death, left a fortune that was placed at much more than $50,000,000. Mrs. Mackay is about thirty-five years old. Her husband is a few years her senior.

U. OF P. PLANS TO AID TEACHERS

New Graduate School Greatly Strengthened.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—At the last session of the legislature of Pennsylvania an appropriation of $40,000 was made to aid in the development of courses in education at the University of Pennsylvania.

It was recognized that just at this time there was an opportunity to be of service to the great body of teachers in the state of Pennsylvania. The passage of the new school code and the establishment of the state board of education have indicated the beginning of a new era in the educational history of Pennsylvania.

For the past twenty years the University of Pennsylvania has conducted courses for teachers and hundreds of teachers have availed themselves of these opportunities, but the work has been hampered by lack of funds, and in many cases the courses have been maintained only by the self-sacrifice of the faculty.

As soon as the appropriation was made Provost Smith began to carry out his plans. The first most important step was to strengthen the department of education in the college of the graduate school.

For this purpose chairs have been established in the history of education and in educational administration and to these chairs two of the leading specialists in the country have been called.

At present the courses in education will continue to be incorporated in the college of arts and science, and will be under the charge of the dean of that school, Dr. Arthur Hobson Quinn.

Professor Graves, Professor Updegraff and Professor Vocum, together with the other specialists whom it is planned to call, are all of the type of men who can offer strong courses in the graduate school of the university, and it is expected that the department of education in the graduate school will attract students who are graduates of other universities as well as graduates of the college of the University of Pennsylvania.

FATHER AND SON MURDERED

Matawan, N. J., Sept. 25.—The bodies of Angelo Cantaloupe, a farmer, and Victor Lamsue, his young stepson, were found in a roadside ditch near the farm, terribly mutilated.

They had been set upon and murdered while returning to the farm after disposing of produce in Matawan. Robbery appeared to be the motive.

Lamar Held in $3000 Bail.

Washington, Sept. 25.—David Lamar, who figured in the senate lobby investigation and later was indicted on charge of impersonating congressmen in telephone talks with prominent financiers, was held by a United States commissioner for the action of the federal authorities in New York, and he was admitted to $3000 bail.

DR. SCHOLL A WITNESS

Gives Important Testimony in Murder Trial at Springfield.

Dr. George Scholl, of Baltimore, well known in Gettysburg, is an important witness in the Smith murder case, now being tried at Springfield, Ohio. Dr. Scholl was the officiating minister at the funeral of Mrs. A. B. Smith, the murdered woman, and testifies to the conduct and conversation of persons at the time of the funeral.

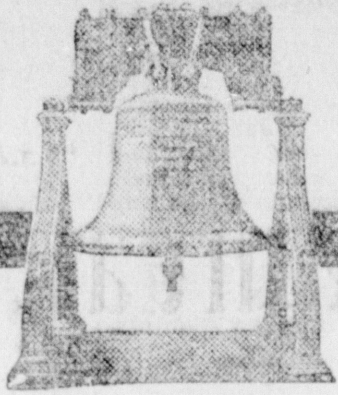

Deadly Wood Tick.

There is a mountain valley in a western state, one side of which has been almost depopulated by wood ticks. The ticks are not very numerous, but they are deadly. The squirrels of this valley are infected with a peculiarly virulent form of so-called "spotted fever," better known as cerebro-spinal meningitis, and wood ticks carry the deadly germs from squirrels to men.

Such a visitation is terrifying enough, even in this practical day. What must it have been in benighted times when sickness was supposed to be the result of witchcraft, or perhaps a visible sign of the wrath of heaven? How many wild delusions, how many strange and fearsome cults and sacrifices that history records were due to epidemics that modern science would trace to a polluted water supply or a disease insect bearing pest.

Why not have some colts, calves and pigs growing into money for you while you sleep?

Make Your Children's School Work A Pleasure This Fall

Imagine, if you please, your own discomfort in trying to work in an ill-fitting pair of shoes. Your children exert themselves very strenuously, especially at school. As a rule boys and girls don't growl about foot trouble. Their fancy begins and ends with exterior appearance of shoes. Therein lies the danger. A shoe salesman bent on selling, regardless, might do permanent injury to a child's feet.

Selz Waukenphast and Liberty Bell shoes for boys and girls are manufactured over foot form lasts by skilled workmen, using the same effort and care that characterizes Selz as a positive leader in the shoe manufacturing industry of the world. They are sold exclusively in this store and fitted by men who know how. This appeals to most people who give such matters serious thought.

A ONE MAN CRUSADE

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1932, by Associated Literary Press.

Just before graduating for the ministry Bruce Stevens spent four days in the town of Newbern as a part of his vacation.

Mr. Stevens found a political boss and a political ring in the town. He found one-half too many saloons for a town of its population.

He found the sheriff of the county and his deputies and the constable in cahoots with the tough element.

The justice of the peace was the keeper of a saloon and passed drinks over the bar, and he protected his own sort when it came to legal troubles.

"Why don't you do something?" he asked of a merchant of the town who was a representative of the better element.

"And get boycotted and driven into bankruptcy?" was asked in return.

"Is it as bad as that?"

"The gang has us by the neck and has us scared. We have no leader."

A few weeks later, when ready to take up his ministerial duties, Mr. Stevens asked to be sent to Newbern.

"But we have a minister there," was replied.

"But he has lost nearly all of his congregation."

"Yes, the reports from that parish are not at all cheering, and I believe Brother Baker would welcome a transfer. You know it's one of the hardest towns in the state."

"I have spent four days there."

"The cause of religion is reported as very lukewarm."

"I didn't know that there was any there at all," smiled the minister.

"Well, you'll be appointed to the place, I hope you may stir things up."

The Rev. Mr. Stevens arrived. He started out with a sermon that jolted and jarred. He spared neither Christian nor sinner. While he criticized the former for lack of backbone, he plainly told the latter that the crisis had come. The crisis meant decency and reform without any shame about it.

After the sermon he lingered to talk with members of his congregation. He found them looking forward with great timidity. If he started a crusade he must not expect any active help from them. They were thoroughly cowed.

"This is to be a one man crusade," he answered them. "I did not expect your aid, and so I'm not disappointed."

Monday morning the crusade opened. Mr. Stevens visited the sheriff, and, without any beating around the bush, he said:

"Sheriff, I am the new minister."

"Yes?"

"I am going for your crowd tooth and toe nail."

"Why do you call it my crowd?" was asked.

"Because it is. There are violations of the law every hour of the day, and you stand by without interference. You drink in every saloon, and you comrade with every lawbreaker. It's the same with your deputies and the constables. It's got to stop. You have got to do your sworn duty."

"Another reformer struck the town, eh?" was the insulting reply.

The sheriff went from saloon to saloon and laughed at the reformer and said there should be no interference from him. Within two weeks he was removed and another man named by the minister was in his shoes. The citizens of Newbern were stunned. It seemed incredible.

The Rev. Mr. Stevens visited the justice in his saloon and said:

"It's for you to enforce the law, and here you are among the lawbreakers! The others are depending upon you to dismiss any complaint made against them. What course are you going to take?"

"None of your business!"

The next day the minister complained of nine saloons which had violated the law. Each one of them was dismissed. Inside of twenty days the old justice was out and a new one in.

There were ordinances against Sunday sports. They had not been enforced in five years. They came to the front now. No more baseball or horse racing.

"Beat the meddler up!" was whispered, and a shake purse was made up to reward a scrapper for doing it.

He started out with great ardor to make a two minute job of it, but it lasted only half that time. The minister knocked him out with a jab on the jaw and then had him arrested and fined for disorderly conduct.

Then a public meeting was called at a hall, and the minister did some tall talking. He put heart into the decent citizens so strongly that they came out boldly to his support, and the opposition saw that their cause was lost.

One thing more. The Rev. Mr. Stevens from his pulpit raked the citizens of Newbern as they had never heard a minister talk before. They owed a duty to God and to man. They must show up at church, whether they were Christians or not. The Sunday school must be resurrected. There must be church work. Religion and politics must mix until every office in the county was filled by a decent man. The devil had had possession of Newbern long enough. Now he must be knocked down and dragged out.

There was no devil there a year later. A stranger stopping at the inn of a Sunday would have looked around him and mused:

"A clean town—a nice town—a respectable town. Everybody seems to be going to church, and I guess I'll go along too."

Movement to Get Roosevelt
Back in Fold Confirmed.

NEEDED TO BEAT WILSO

Maryland Senator Gives Impetus to Action of Party Leaders in Washington.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—The report out of Washington recently that a movement was on foot by Old Guard Republican leaders to make Colonel Theodore Roosevelt the G. O. P. nominee for president in 1916, received no only credence, but actual impetus from United States Senator William Pur-nell Jackson, of Maryland.

Senator Jackson, Republican national committeeman from Maryland, was a Taft adherent at the Chicago convention last year, and is an important cog in the Old Guard machine. His off-hand comment on the possibility of Roosevelt as the Republican candidate in 1916 is considered as having more than usual significance.

Senator Jackson, who material down to Philadelphia from his camp in the Adirondacks with his family, was seen at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel. When asked about the Roosevelt movement among his conferees in the senate, he said:

"Such an eventuality as Colonel Roosevelt being the Republican nominee in 1916 would not surprise me in the least. I have been away from Washington for a week, and do not know what gave rise to the recent report, but in a general sort of way I know that such a thing has been talked of among national party leaders for several months.

"A month ago a dyed-in-the-wool Republican senator, who cannot be said to have any surplus love for the Oyster Bay colonel, said to me in the senate cloakroom, 'Jackson, do you know I believe that Roosevelt's nomination by the Republican party in 1916 is inevitable?'"

"Such expressions of opinion have been heard on many sides, without, however, any concerted effort to bring a nomination about. It is a bit too early for any definite action, and so far as I know, the colonel has not been sounded by any of the leaders.

The talk I refer to entirely bears out the Washington reports and I must admit it is very significant of events in the future.

"If he looms up as an available man for the presidency, so far as we Maryland Republicans are concerned, he must come to the front as a Republican."

"The agreements made as to a future party platform may not be as radical as Colonel Roosevelt might wish to dictate, as to stand upon as a party platform, but if I read the colonel right he will be willing to make many concessions to obtain a nomination from the Republican party. There is no question that his so-called Progressive following would fall into line.
This, of course, is all speculation, but it is entirely a probability worth keeping under one's political hat."

Senator Jackson said that the tariff program of President Wilson was objectionable to a large element of the business community of the country, and concentrated efforts would be made to restore a protective tariff. To overthrow the Democratic economic policy it is necessary, he added, to have a united opposition.

TURKS BURN AND SLAY

Soldiers Committing Terrible Atrocities on Bulgaria's Frontier.

Sofia, Sept. 25.—Turkish soldiers are committing terrible atrocities all along the southern frontier of Bulgaria.

Word has reached Sofia that the Turks have burned the prosperous town of Mustapha Pasha, which for a time was used as the Bulgarian base of operations in the first Balkan war.

Several villages in the Dirklid district have been burned and the inhabitants massacred.

The Bulgarian government has entered protest against the depredations.

PENNSYLVANIA TO AID BLIND

Plans to Open Five New Offices For Them in the State.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25.—Plans were under consideration by the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind for the establishment of five branch offices of the association in the state.

The cities in which the new offices will be established are Johnstown, Altoona, Erie, Reading and Harrisburg.

1365 Ont. U. S. For Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 25.—The tide of emigration from the United States swept 1265 persons into western Canada during the week ended Sept. 16,
according to government statistics.
The newcomers brought about a quarter of a million of dollars in cash and personal property. During the same week 193 persons emigrated to the United States from Canada.

Redmond Grandfather of Twins.

Dublin, Ireland, Sept. 25.—John E.
Redmond, leader of the Irish party, became a grandfather when twins
were born to his daughter Johanna.
Her husband is Max S. Green, chairman of the Irish prisons board. They were married on Jan. 8 last.

MONEY BILL'S FAULTS SHOWN

Secretary of Credit Association Before Committee.

AMENDMENTS ARE URGED

If the Demand That All Interests Be Heard, Measure May Be In Committee Until Nov. 1.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Views of the banking and currency committee of the National Credit Men's association, endorsing the pending Democratic currency bill in principle, but strongly urging numerous material amendments, were presented to the senate committee.

J. H. Trego, secretary of the association, submitted a brief outlining proposed changes. He suggested reducing the number of proposed federal reserve banks from twelve to six in order to strengthen the resources of each; criticized the bill's failure to provide for representation of bankers on the federal reserve board; opposed making federal reserve notes government obligations, and urged that the notes should be redeemed solely in gold; declared the government should not collect interest on its deposits with the reserve banks and vigorously condemned the plan to allow national banks to do a savings account business.

With extended hearings on the bill practically assured, the senate committee settled down to obtain all information available. A suggestion by T. E.
Kenaston, one of a delegation of northwestern merchants, that the committee visit various parts of the country and get in touch with business interests, was not thought feasible.

In addition to the views of the credit men and the northwestern merchants, including Hovey C. Clark, A. H. Comstock and Fendal G. Winston, the committee heard Breckinridge Jones, of St. Louis, who discussed the bill from the viewpoint of state banks and trust companies.

The committee expects to hear delegations from various parts of the country this week.

Senator Bristow expressed the opinion that a majority of the committee would support him in a demand that all bankers, merchants and others desiring to discuss the bill, be allowed to appear before the committee. If that course be followed the bill may be in the committee at least a month and probably until Nov. 1.

MINIMUM WAGE IN OREGON

Welfare Commission Fixes Scale of Hours and Pay For Women.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 25.—Every adult woman clerk employed in any mercantile establishment in the state of Oregon must be paid at least $9.25 a week after Nov. 23, unless she is an apprentice.

The Oregon industrial welfare commission, concluding an investigation of the wages paid women and girl workers and the amount it costs them to live, made public its ruling. Oregon taking front rank in minimum wage legislation.

The commission ruled that no woman should be worked longer than eight hours and twenty minutes a day, more than fifty hours in one week, nor later than 6 p. m.

Saturday nights and the Christmas holiday season are excepted.

LABELS AMERICAN GIRLS

French Count Says They Are Too
Coldly Practical.

New York, Sept. 25.—"The trouble with the American girls," said Count Leon de Meritens, a retired French lawyer, who has been studying conditions in this country, as he said, "is that she is too coldly practical and business like."

"Love with her is a business proposition, pure and simple. When one lands in New York the first question is 'How much are you worth?'" In Philadelphia they inquire 'What is your origin?' In Boston 'What do you know?' and in Chicago 'What is your business?'"

Jilted; Uses Dynamite.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 25.—Charged with dynamiting the home of Miss Anna Melcorian, at Gladden, because she had jilted him, Bennie Frank was arrested here. In the explosion the house was wrecked and Ferdinand Melcorian, the girl's father, was badly injured.

Condemn School Taking Carnegie Coin

Jackson, Mo., Sept. 25.—The St.
Louis conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, adopted a resolution condemning the trustees of Vanderbilt university, Nashville, Tenn., for accepting a million dollar endowment from Andrew Carnegie. The adoption of the resolution was preceded by a spirited debate.

Three Brothers Shot; Two Dead.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 25.—Joseph and John Hill were shot and killed and their brother, Bige Hill, was injured severely in a family quarrel near Grand Chain, Ill.

Two Killed by Fall Over Cliff.

MAYNOR GAYNOR
LEFT $2,000,000

Goes to Family, Except Two Daughters, Who Are Cut Off.

New York, Sept. 25.—Mayor Gay-nor's will, read and filed in the office of Surrogate Ketcham, in Brooklyn, distributes the estate, valued at more than $2,000,000, to his widow, sons and daughters.

Rufus and Norman, the sons, got two-sevenths of the principal, and the three youngest daughters, Ruth, Marion and Helen, each one-seventh.

Five hundred shares of the Royal Baking Powder company stock, valued at $180 a share, and the Brooklyn home are left in trust to the widow in lieu of her dower rights.

To his favorite sister, Mary, the late mayor bequeaths 115 shares of the baking powder stock and the Utica, N. Y., home. There is no bequest for his married daughters, Mrs. Harry Vingut and Mrs. William Seward Webb, Jr., except a remembrance of $1000 each.

The share of Rufus Gaynor, who was with the mayor when he died aboard the Baltic, is placed in the hands of trustees, who are instructed to pay the income to him until he is thirty years old, and then to surrender the principal if they judge him capable of handling it wisely.

Rufus is twenty-four years old and Norman is twenty-one. The legacies to the three unmarried daughters also are placed in the hands of a trustee, to be held until they are twenty-five years old.

No explanation is made of the apparent discrimination against the two married daughters, both of whom eloped and married without their father's knowledge or consent.

CANDIDATES MUST CAST LOTS

Sixteen Aspirants Have One Vote
Each, Probably Their Own.

Sunbury, Pa., Sept. 25.—In sending out primary election certificates the Northumberland county commissioners discovered more than 100 tie votes in the county.

The candidates must appear in the commissioner's office on Oct. 3 and draw lots to determine who shall be the candidate, the board said.

Five men are tied for the Republican nomination for burgess in Herndon and two for the Democratic nomination for burgess in Shamokin.

Sixteen want to be inspector of election in Lewis township, and each man has one vote, which the commissioners say is probably their own.

mer King Manuel of Portugal, who

MOUNTAIN LION STEALS FISH

Four Anglers Spend Weird Night in California and Lose Their Breakfast.

Redlands, Cal.—To catch a fine mess of mountain trout and then have a mountain lion take it is no fun, according to A. H. Holgate, G. Hulzing, G. Gardner and N. Songer, who have just returned from a fishing trip to upper Bear creek.

The anglers caught a fine mess of trout and only used half of them for the evening meal. Just before they went to sleep they heard a noise on the rock above them, and an investigation revealed a big wildcat slinking off in the moonlight.

Fearful that the animal would come back after the trout they hung them on two upright poles in the ground. About midnight they were awakened by the roaring of a mountain lion that seemed to be almost on top of them. One of the men was brave enough to move toward the sound, but the fierce roaring of the lion scared him away. In the morning when they went to look for their breakfast of trout they found it gone.

EMPTY PISTOL AWES THIEVES

Girl Lets Them Run Away After Her Dog Whips Them in an Exciting Fight.

Kittanning, Pa.—With an unloaded revolver, Miss Estella Smith, sixteen years old, of Walkersburg, near here, held up two burglars at four o'clock in the morning in the home of her father, H. C. Smith. During the excitement a dog which accompanied the burglars mixed up with a wire-haired Irish terrier belonging to Miss Smith.

When her dog had won, Miss Smith was so elated at the victory, and impatient because she could not arouse her father that she told the burglars to make themselves scarce and take their whipped cur with them.

During the fight between the dogs, Miss Smith became so excited by the success of her dog that she carelessly flourished the revolver in the face of the cowed men, whereupon they begged her to put the gun down. When she told them to go they gladly ran away.
